Mr. Basti Sridhar Shenoy of Uppinangady village, Puttur taluk, South Kanara district, has applied for a mining lease for Corundum for a period of three years over an extent of 61.87 acres in S. no. 49/B of Uppinangady, S. nos. 73/2 B and 102/1 of Hirebandadi and S. nos. 245/B and 252/A of Bajathur in Puttur taluk. The Coll has no objection to granting the lease. Of the lands referred to above, S no. 252/A of Bajathur village is almost triangular in shape, though a polygon and does not satisfy the provision of rule 47 of the mining rules in Chapter VI of the Mining Manual. The Board requests the sanction of the Govt for the relaxation of the rule in this case. A plotted sketch of the land is enclosed.

In reply to your letter No.2643-I/34 of the 13th of October 1934, relative to the grant of mining lease for corundum in the Puttur Taluk of South Kanara, I have the honour to state that in applying Rule 47 of the Mining Rules, the area of the lease applied for should be treated as a whole instead of treating contiguous areas separately because they happen to lie in different villages. The plan submitted does not show clearly the area it is desired to acquire on mining lease, and I would request you, therefore, to arrange for the submission of a map showing the area and boundaries of the lease in the three villages of Uppinangadi, Hirebandadi and Bajathur as a whole.

FORWARDED
(By Order)

Superintendent.

From the Director, Geological Survey of India, No.2191-1484, dated 6.4.35.-

Relaxation of Rule 47 in connection with a mining lease proposed to be granted for corundum at Uppinangaddi (South Kanara).

I have the honour to forward herewith a copy of a report on the corundum deposits in the neighbourhood of Uppinangaddi (South Kanara), by Dr. P.K.Ghosh, Extra Assistant Superintendent in this Department, written as a result of his recent visit. In view of Dr. Ghosh's report, I agree to the relaxation of Rule 47 of the Mining Rules. This relaxation is agreed to not because the mineral occurs in river beds, for it is evident that there can be no question of the concessionaire going to the expense of dredging for deposits of such apparent unimportance. My reason is based on the apparent unimportance of the deposit as reported by Dr. Ghosh and the fact that some of the other plots appear to have been worked by other lessees. I strongly support Dr. Ghosh's further recommendation that the prospective lessee should be allowed to acquire adjoining plots if his experience of the plots now to be granted should justify the additional outlay.

Report on the corundum deposit in the neighbourhood of Uppinangadi (South Kanara).-

Locality.-

Corundum in varying degrees of abundance is found as a detrital deposit chiefly in the alluvium of the tributary of the Netravati River in the neighbourhood of Uppinangadi (12°50' : 75°15'). The occurrence is comparatively more abundant in the portion of the valley lying north of Panchera (12°48' : 75°17') and Pillenki (12°48' : 75°18'), and Barla (12°49' : 75°16'). In addition to these localities, it has also been found in the minor streamlets at Pilenki, Kaniya (12°49' : 75°18'), and 1 m.N.W. of Kaniya (vide sketch map, and sheet No. 48 P/5).

Mode of occurrence.-

A search of the mineral in situ proved disappointing, due chiefly to the obscurity of exposures and the scarcity of the mineral. The country rock is composed of banded gneisses intruded by epidiorite granite and pegmatite. It is where the last two (viz., granite and pegmatite) are abundant that the alluvial detritus on the slopes of the hillocks composed of them (i.e. granite and pegmatite), and the river bed itself, yield water worn crystals of corundum. So far, it is only in the pegmatite that I have been able to trace the mineral. But the occurrence is so sporadic, that it will never pay to work the rock itself. Even the alluvial workings themselves, undertaken at suitable localities at my suggestion, have not produced an amount of the mineral which may be called promising. The previous lessee worked the adjoining plots, and I am told he wound up his operations to pits 3' - 4' deep on the slopes of the river valley, but not actually on the self.

The plots applied for in the present instance, form part of the Government waste-land, and are portions of the corundum belt (vide sketch map) that have not either been worked by the previous lessee, or have yielded comparatively larger amounts of corundum in preliminary tests; the shapes of these plots have been determined chiefly by the the 'patta'-, and 'Kumaki' rights of the neighbouring plot-holders prevent the prospective lessee from acquiring more land, thereby extending his property in any direction

Rule 47, Indian Mining Rules.

Rule 47 of Indian Mining Rules demands that unless the areas be in river beds held on lease for dredging purposes, the shape of the land held under mining lease should be more or less rectangular, the length being not more than four four times the breadth.

Why Rule 47 should be relaxed.-

In the present instance, the areas adjoining and actually include river beds. Moreover, from the nature of the occurrence as set forth above, proper mining is out of the question in this area. The only way the mineral can be recovered is by dredging the stream bed, and by sieving and washing the alluvium of the valleys which operations will be confined to within three to five feet of the surface. Under the circumstances, I recommend that the operation of Rule 47 be relaxed.

Further recommendation.-

I am given to understand that the propsective lessee contemplates applying for an extension of the lease into the Kumaki lands if his experience in the present areas justifies the outlay of a further capital for more extensive working. Should such an occasion arise, I would suggest that the Government grant him lease of the Kumaki land immediately adjoining the plots now applied for, provided it can be done without interfering with the legitimate privileges of the Patta land-holders.

Please see the Collector's letters at pages 1 & 2 cf.

The application for the mining lease is in order. The applicant is a holder of a valid certificate of approval. The lease applied for is only for three years. There is no objection to granting it.

Attention is invited to para 4 of the Coll's letter. Although the length of S. no. 245/B of Bajathur exceeds four times the breadth on the northern side, the average length (1651 links) of the plot does not exceed four times its average breadth (425 links). The provisions of rule 47 are satisfied in this case & there is therefore no necessity to address the Govt for exempting this plot from the operation of this rule.

In regard to the other land viz 252/A of Bajathur, reference is solicited to the sketch at p 21 cf. Its shape is irregular & the land is a polygon as stated by the Colls. The provisions of rule 47 are not satisfied in this case (as the shape is almost triangular this a polygon) may be addressed for the relaxation of this rule in this case under note to this rule.
